Utah House Majority Caucus Elects New Leadership Members

SALT LAKE CITY – The Utah House Majority Caucus has elected its leadership team for the 2023-2024 term. The following representatives have been elected to the respective positions:

Speaker of the House – Rep. Brad Wilson
House Majority Leader – Rep. Mike Schultz
House Majority Whip – Rep. Jefferson Moss
House Majority Assistant Whip – Rep. Karianne Lisonbee

“The trust and confidence of my fellow representatives is humbling,” said Speaker Brad Wilson. “I have never been more energized to serve or more focused on leading my colleagues as we address the challenges and opportunities of the coming years.”

“Serving as Majority Leader is an honor and a responsibility I take seriously,” said Rep. Mike Schultz. “I’m thankful for the trust my colleagues have placed in me once more, and I promise to serve the caucus and State of Utah with diligence and integrity.”

“I am thankful to my colleagues for allowing me to continue serving as the House Majority Whip,” said Rep. Jefferson Moss. “I look forward to working with my fellow caucus members as we serve the people and state of Utah.”

“I am honored and thrilled to be a part of this leadership team,” said Rep. Karianne Lisonbee. “My colleagues have put a great amount of trust in me and I look forward to getting to work and making the most out of this opportunity.”

The House Majority leadership team will serve in these positions through the upcoming term (January 2023–January 2025). Elected leadership appointments will be announced in the coming weeks.
